COURT ADVISORY REGARDING DISCOVERY AND DEPOSITION ISSUE

As a follow up to the conference call of last week, it later occurred to the Court that a solution to the desire of defendant's representative to observe the demeanor of a plaintiff witness is as follows:

The Court will make available a courtroom or jury room and a court reporting student or the Court's court reporter for the purpose of examining the witness under oath. There would be no expense to either party. The proceeding would be closed just as in a traditional deposition.

SIGNED this the 11th day of October, 2011.

CHIEF UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE
